ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
in the Digital Age

In an era of rapidly advancing digital tools and artificial intelligence (AI), maintaining academic integrity is more important than ever. This interactive workshop will explore the evolving landscape of plagiarism, including self-plagiarism, improper citation, and the ethical use of AI tools in academic research. Participants will gain a deeper understanding of what constitutes plagiarism in the digital age, how to responsibly integrate AI-generated content into their work, and strategies for maintaining ethical research practices. Facilitated by Dr. Ken Seligson, Department of Anthropology
